CHIEF OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL OF POLICE,

Cotacumund, 26th June 1890.

FROM

Colonel C. A. Porteus,

Sy. INSPECTOR GENERAL OF POLICE,

TO

THE Chief Secretary

to Government,

Cotacumund.

SIR,

Enclosures.

With reference to para. 6 of G.O. No. 1154 dated 5th June 1889, Judicial Department and in continuation of my letter No. 6792 of 21st December 1889, I have the honor to submit for the approval of Government, a proof copy of the Police Order Book corrected to 31st May 1890.

II Besides embodying additions and alterations consequent on orders issued since the date of its last publication in 1884, the present edition has been thoroughly revised and re-arranged in consultation with District Police Officers, and as will be seen from the table of contents a systematic arrangement of subjects into chapters and of chapters into subordinate sections, has been made, with a view to render the book better adapted for study and more easy of reference.

III Appendices have been added to the revised edition relating to books, registers, returns &c, which should prove useful to all grades of the force; and the explanatory notes in small type, while materially adding to the utility of the work, have greatly helped to reduce its bulk.

II. Many changes have been made in the wording of the earlier orders issued to suit the present requirements of the service; travelling allowance rules of the subordinate police — who are not provided with the Civil Service Regulations — have been given in a compact form, and some useful information, gathered from Regulations IX of 1821, XXIX of 1802 and IV of 1816, relating to village police, has been added (under a separate chapter) to existing orders on the subject.

The alterations in the full dress uniform of our officers, made in 1884 — when silver lace was substituted for black braid — cannot, in my opinion, be regarded as an improvement, and I trust that Government will approve of a return to the less gaudy but far neater and more suitable uniform introduced by Sir William Robinson and laid down in the present revised Police Order Book.

The index is under preparation and nearly completed and I would ask that Government be pleased to accept their very devotion to the publication of the book.

VII. The proof copy now submitted to Government contains errors in printing which will of course be corrected.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient servant.

J. H. A. Stewart Col.

Asst. Inspector Genl. of Police.

* This alteration in the uniform does not appear to have had the sanction of Government but was introduced into the revised Police Order Book of 1884.
