been as her brother. When she was young, she gets fit, falls down and is herself. She has not been eating food since yesterday. She goes to take a stone and drops it over her head.
 She drops the cloth containing her meal, over head and breaks it. She strips herself of her cloth and stands naked. She does all this for four days after the new moon she is likewise insane, both before and after the full moon. Yesterday and the Police Guard. Head constable Jhaladabhai have seen her doing so. I have also mentioned all this to the Hospital Assistant Bhichayade.

Statement of Neethaya Pillai a resident of Theravangampolliam.

I know Angammal of Theravangampolliam who was a lunatic. I have known her for the last 10 years. I know her father Aronogam Pillai. He died about 15 years ago. I did not know Angammal's grandfather (Aronogam Pillai's father). Angammal's grandfather might have died while I was too young. I am now about 55 years old.

Question:— Was Angammal's father or her grandfather ever insane or did they ever show symptoms of insanity?

Answer:— Angammal's father was never insane.
I did not see any symptoms of insanity in him nor have I heard any such about him.
I have not heard that Angammal's grand father was a lunatic or showed symptoms of lunacy.

Question. Did Angamul use to take intoxicants?

Answer. I have no idea how far Angamul was opium addict or tottly. I have heard that she was using it. I have not seen Angamul talking or doing things in the manner in which the persons addicted to the use of intoxicants, talk or do nor have I heard that she was talking so. Angamul's father Angamul's father never used to take intoxicants.
None in the family of Angamul take to the use of intoxicants. Angamul was married about seven years ago. Six years after her marriage, her husband died. She is a good fit (young) while her husband was here. She used to go out of senses then and talk any thing she liked. While she was in this state of lunacy her husband died. When she got fit she used to be out of her mind about a Indian and she was in a state of lunacy. She tears clothes, talks at random and wanders about without stopping at particular places.

Question. Does Angamul possess any property?

Answer. She has no means of property. Her husband was a cooly. When he died he left behind no property for her. She has no house or any other kind of property. There are none to maintain Angamul. She had been getting her livelihood by husking paddy. Angamul's mother is also a cooly.

Question. Are there any in the family of Angamul's father or mother who are lunatics?

Answer. Angamul's maternal uncle Angamul's uncle, was in this state of lunacy 10 years ago and died four years after that. He was out of senses, talking anything, and doing any where, and died.
He used to throw stones over the people and these clothes. we were no longer for a long time and he confined himself to a place and died in consequence of not taking regular meals. No other (of that family) were injured.

Mr. & Dist. Magt. of Salem.

To

The Secy

y to Government,

Local Department,

MADRAS.

SIR,

I have honor to submit for the Orders of Government under Section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the entire records and translation of the evidence in Calander case No. 88 of 1892 in the file of the Tahsildar and second class magistrate of Tiruchengode.

2. The Angammal was charged with trespass on Railway under Section 122 of the Railway Act of 1890 and produced before the Tahsildar magistrate who found her to be apparently sane and placed her under the observation of the Sub Assistant at Tunchingpote. On recy. a letter from the Hospital Assistant dated December 1892, that accused Angammai exhibited no symptoms of insanity, the Magistrate proceeded with the trial of the case, but on the 9th January 1893 during the trial she appeared to be insane, and the Hospital Assistant desired to have her under his observation for a further period to enable him to give a definite opinion as to the state of her mind. She was again placed under his observation accordingly. He has now certified that she is labouring under ^{her} mania, and becomes insane during the times of the ^{her} full moon. The certificate desired to be granted by him and a medical History sheet for the lunatic are herewith enclosed.

3. On the evidence recd. & the Magistrate has acquitted the accused & pardoned of the offence of Excess on the ground that she, while committing the offence, was of unsound mind and incapable of the ^{very} nature of her act, or that she was doing what was wrong.

wrong or contrary law. I may observe here that the Suburban Magistrate should not have examined the 7th and 8th Prosecution witnesses on 23rd January 1893 and recorded their statement while the accused was under the observation of the Medical officer, when the Sub Magistrate admittedly had reason to think that she was insane. It is to be observed that though the Sub Magistrate in his judgment repeatedly alludes to her "insanity"; he omits to mention if the insanity was such as to render her "incapable of making her defence".
Although the judgment does not expressly say so, it would appear that he was of such opinion, and if so the conviction would seem to be of any legal validity. The offence however is of such trifling importance, except in so far as the accused was herself concerned, that it is scarcely necessary to raise this point.

4. Pending orders of Government to " " Angammai

ingammal has been "in the central Jail Salaw.

5. It is reported that Ingammal has no property of any kind nor is relations able to furnish security and to take charge of her.

I have honor to be,

Your most obedient servant
