To

The Chief Secretary to Government
Judicial Dept. Madras

No. 1651 dated Madras, the 24 April 1893.

SIR,

I have the honour to request that Government may be pleased to extend the instructions conveyed in their Order No 274, judicial, dated 7th February '93, to cases in which copies of judgments or depositions are required by the Post office. As a rule copies of judgments are furnished both by Sessions Judges and Magistrates in cases in which the Post office is interested: but it has not been the practice with them in all cases to supply copies of depositions, although there are sometimes absolute

Necessaries

necessary for departmental proceedings.
