CHIEF OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF POLICE,

MADRAS, 15th August 1894.

FROM

Colonel G. A. Forbes,

INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF POLICE,

TO

The Chief Secretary

to Government,

Madras.

SIR,

Enclosures.

With reference to para 3 of G.O. No. 1032 (Judicial), dated May 1st, 1894, I have the honor to submit that since the re-organization of the Police in this Presidency it has not been the practice for the Inspector-General of Police to obtain the previous sanction of Government for all orders issued by him and published in the Madras Gazette. It is, however, the practice of the Inspector-General of Police to obtain the sanction of Government for all orders of a general nature, and for all orders which are of a special nature, and which are of a permanent character. It is, however, the practice of the Inspector-General of Police to obtain the sanction of Government for all orders of a general nature, and for all orders which are of a special nature, and which are of a permanent character.

in the Police Weekly Circular —

3. — In the case of new orders, if the be important or of any new principle be involved, the previous sanction of Government has usually been obtained for its publication e.g. uniform of superior officers of Police which forms the subject of reference to Government in my letter No. 3085 of June 8th, 1893.

4. — In regard to other matters relating to

Best work

Conduct of Police on duty

Kit Inspection

Orderlies

Dratic of escorts and guards

Surveillance over known defrauders

Drill etc

Harassment of the public and

Retention

the expediency of the Inspector General to issue orders has hitherto not been questioned.

5. — The words to obtain the previous sanction of Government for the publication of orders which he might consider it necessary to issue.

6. — Every new order issued is published in the Police Weekly Circular, a copy of which is regularly submitted to Government in the judicial department; and hitherto, no case has arisen in which the Government found it necessary to cancel or modify any of the orders issued for the very good reason that in all important matters the previous approval of Government is usually obtained —

7. — Under these circumstances, I beg to recommend that the present practice, which has been in existence for 30 years and worked well, may be allowed to continue —

8. — But if Government desires that proof copy of every order should be submitted to it and its approval obtained previous to publication, this could be done but such a system would involve considerable expense. It is not necessary that all orders should be submitted to the Government for its approval. It is sufficient if they are submitted to the Inspector General for his approval and then published in the Police Weekly Circular.

Order

The Govt. has no intention of requiring the submission to it for approval of all orders which appear in the Police Weekly Circular. But the Police Order Book which contains the rules & orders which have the force of law & on the rare occasions when an order appears to be of such importance as to justify its insertion in that book, a copy of it should be submitted for the formal approval of Govt. under sec. 9 of Act XXIV of 1859. The I.G. must in each case exercise his discretion as to whether the prior sanction of Govt. should be sought when it is proposed to alter the Police Order Book. It is not the case of amendment which do not involve any great principle, there will, as a rule, be no necessity to seek prior sanction.

2. The proposal to call the Police Weekly Circular 'The Police Circular' in future, is approved.
