No 102

Municipal office
Coonoor 27 June 1895

From,

J. A. Marjoribanks Esq.
Chairman, Municipal Council
Coonoor.

To,

The Honorable Mr J. F. Price C. S. I.
Chief Secretary to Government (through the collector of Nilgiris.)

Sir,

With reference to para 4 of G.O. dated 6th May 1895 No 800 M. I have the honor to state that the poison used to destroy stray dogs in the municipal market and slaughter houses is strychnine. It is given to the dogs in meat either by the Sanitary or Market Inspector and by no one else.

This method of killing dogs had to be adopted as no persons could be induced for any reasonable pecuniary consideration to destroy dogs with clubs.

Forwarded. The method adopted seems safer than the previous method more merciful, than that of clubbing -
W. H. Price
Collector

From

The Chairman Municipal Council, Coonoor.

FOR ORDERS.

I should prohibit the use of strychnine by such persons for such purposes.
My opinion being that it is highly dangerous in the hands of low paid subordinates. I must take the responsibility of permitting its use.

24/7/95

In para. 451 of go. date 18th March 1895, No 465 M. reviewing the Coonoor Municipal Budget for 1895-96, the Government said that it considered the employment of strychnine for poisoning dogs much too dangerous to be permitted and disallowed the expenditure proposed to be incurred for this purpose.

Orders are solicited as to whether in the circumstances stated by the Chairman, the use of strychnine may be allowed in Coonoor, or whether it be prohibited as in the Coonoor.

The Govt. considers that the use of strychnine for such purposes as those referred to ~~must be~~ by low-paid & probably uneducated subordinates is highly dangerous, & should be altogether prohibited
