C. No. 2654 L.

FOR ORDERS.

The expected house-tax is only Rs.450, levy at half rates being proposed. A clerk on Rs.10., a bill collector on Rs.5., office rent about Rs.2, & stamps & stationery about Rs.3, per mensem comes to Rs (12 × 20) = Rs.240 per annum. One scavenging cart at Rs.12. will cost another Rs.144. The panchayat will therefore have only Rs (450 − 384) = Rs.66., or Rs.5. per mensem to spend on everything else. It will therefore have to come upon the Taluk Board for help, & this means that funds raised from land-cess paid by the General body of rate-payers will be expended for the benefit of the small section of them who live in the Union.

Submitted that the Board may be told that the expected income is too small, & that unless it can see its way to levying the House Tax at maximum rates, which would bring in Rs 900, the constitution of the place into a Union cannot be sanctioned

ORDER. No. 1923 Luis, d/ 15-10-95

In the statement accompanying the first of the letters read above the house-tax that is likely to be realized in the proposed Union is estimated at Rs. 820. The rate at which it is ~~proposed~~ intended to levy the tax is not, however, given. In the last of the above letters it is stated that the realizations from the tax will be Rs. 450 if it is levied at half the maximum rates. (2) Presuming the latter estimate to be the correct one it appears to the Govt. that the ~~proposed~~ Union panchayat will not have at its command sufficient funds of its own to carry out any appreciable improvement in the sanitation of the villages under its charge & that it will be compelled to rely largely upon contributions from the Taluk Board

3. It is not, however, equitable that funds raised from the general body of the rate-payers should be expended for the benefit of the small section of them who reside in unions, & unless the local boards are prepared ~~it is possible~~ to levy the house tax at the maximum rates, so that the proposed union may be self supporting, its constitution cannot be sanctioned
