Dated 23rd September 1895
Despatched 24th September 1895

Sir, In reply to your No ²¹²²_{17.7.95} I have the honor to state, that as stated in the Inspection notes the pass books were kept back to try to trace discrepancies between the balances shown in them and in the Engineer's Cash book, and on account of these discrepancies being of long standing, it was found to be no easy matter to rectify matters. The discrepancies have not yet been traced and orders are awaited as per Inspector's recommendation in his notes to adopt the treasury balances and adjust accordingly.

I am unable to give any reason why a Register of Estimates was not maintained last year. A Register has since been opened and booked up to date, including last year's transactions.

I have the honor to be

Sir,
Your most obedient Servant.
