Subject or Proposition

Read Note Ref No. 2530 dated 5th February/95, regarding the fees to be charged to Kerosine oil trade.
Put up for Consideration.

Resolution

With regards to license fees for storing Explosive or Combustible Materials, it has been said in the remarks Column of G.O. No. 229 M. dated 26th June/85 that only those that store such Materials in special buildings are to take license and not those that store such articles together with other Domestic articles exposed for sale. Under cover of this proviso, it is found that some persons though carrying on trade in Kerosine oil on a large scale escape from payment of license fee by simply exposing for sale other articles also. Under these circumstances, the Council resolve that the Government be moved to cancel proviso referred to.

Sir,

I have the honor to submit herewith the Copy of Council's resolution dated 9th February 1895, No 518 and to request that the Government may be good to cancel the whole of the proviso contained in G. O. dated 26th Jan 1895 No 229 on Financial regarding the particular (v), viz place for storing Explosives or Combustibles or Druggs.

2. It having been found that some Merchants of the town were storing Kerosine oil in large quantities without a license, three of them were prosecuted but were acquitted on the ground that it formed part of the Druggs & Manco's Articles exposed for sale as per the above proviso and consequently they were let off.

3. So long as this proviso remains in force, no action can be taken against such persons that store Reservas on a large scale without having licenses and it causes some loss to the Municipality.

2. The Council should not however regard the matter simply from the point of view of the income

For few Councils do more than merely collect the fees. The object of the section is wider than that. Kerosine is now so extensively used that special precautions in its storage are required.
A good part of Ponani, in Malabar, was burnt down the other day through a fire which started in a kerosine shop.
