Improvement Act of 1865, the town of Ellore and its suburbs and all places situated or lying within certain boundaries specified therein for purposes of the act. The expression "all places situated or lying within" does not imply that all Government site was made over to the Council. Nor does the definition of the word street relied on by the Chairman in support of his contention hold good. A reference to the plan forwarded herewith, shows that the site in question does not lie between a road way and the main wall of any building. It is surrounded on one side by a garden and on the other sides by a road and paddy fields (vide also G. O. $\frac{110 \text{ m mis}}{22-1-95}$ regarding the potter's site in Rajahmundry).

The site referred to by the Chairman is Government property. Vetraswamigadu the applicant for the site was charged once with prohibitory assessment for having raised a hut thereon. He removed it then but erected another last year and was again charged with prohibitory assessment. Having failed to get the site from the Revenue Department he now resorts to the Municipality for succour.

The Chairman's contention that it was vested in the Council by virtue of notification published in the Fort St George Gazette of 30-10-~~66~~ and sec 23 of Act IV of 1884, is quite futile. The notification referred to by the Chairman simply vested in the Commissioners appointed under the Towns

Resolved that Government be requested Sanction the Site, on condition of his giving up the Site when required by the Municipality it is situated on the side of Tungahdram,
