To

The President, Dt Board,

Sir,

In submitting herewith a copy of the Ramnad Taluk Board's resolution No 108 of 1875 recommending that the village of Abiramam and its 8 hamlets be constituted a Union, I have the honor to state that the above village lies six miles to the east of Kamuthi and 14 miles to the south of Paramakudi. It has a large Mahommedan population. A voluntary Sanitary association which had been at work in Abiramam died out some time ago; and the sanitary condition of the place is very unsatisfactory. The Dy Tahsildar of Paramakudi considers, and I agree with him, that a Union can be usefully established at the place.

2. The Abiramam village (including its hamlets) contains 151~~5~~8 houses, of which 140 are terraced, 682 are tiled, and 696 are thatched. The total population is 6583. I calculate that a sum of Rs 800 may be realised from the levy of house-tax levied at half the schedule rates; Rs 30 from pandal fees; Rs 30 from other fees and fines; and Rs 30 from other miscellaneous sources.

3. The subjoined table exhibits the probable annual receipts and expendi

of the proposed Union:

Receipts					Expenditure
House tax	Pandal fees	Other fees and fines	Sundries	Total	Water supply	Village site	Scavengering establishment	Fairs & festivals	Other sanitary outlay	Union establishment	Contingencies	Total
800	30	30	30	890	50	50	580	20.	20	120	50	890

4. For the scavengering establishment, I propose to have a maistry on Rs 8 per mensem, and 8 sweepers on Rs 5 per mensem (of whom one or two will be toties). The above staff will cost Rs 576 per annum or Rs 580 in round numbers.

5. For the Union office establishment, I think that a clerk on Rs 10 per mensem would suffice. He and the sanitary maistry may divide between them the work of collecting the house-tax.

. There is only a single head man for the village and its 8 hamlets and the distances between the parent village and its hamlets are noted in the plan sent herewith. It will be seen that the most distant hamlet is only 6 furlongs off from the central village.

. I propose to fix the maximum number of members at 12, and I do not anticipate any difficulty in finding competent men to serve on the panchayet. As a beginning, it will probably be advisable to have the Dy Tahsildar of Paramakudi as Chairman to give the Union a fair start. Afterwards a non-official can be put in.

. I solicit that the sanction of Government be obtained to the Taluk Boards proposal.
