SUBJECT.

No 1889 received 7-11-96
Order.

The Municipal Council will be informed that it is now too late to introduce any new provisions in the bill to amend Act IV of 1884. The Government, however, considers that persons fouling the water of the tank which has been set apart by lawful order for bathing purposes and its water is corrupted or fouled by the same may be proceeded against under Section 277 of the Indian Penal Code would, if believed, be applicable.

30/10/96

If a tank is set apart by lawful order for bathing purposes, the fouling of it so as to render it unfit for that purpose is punishable under S. 277 of the Indian Penal Code.

The Chairman Municipal Council Calicut this the 7th of October 1896

Bringing to notice that the defiling of the water of a tank set apart for bathing purposes by casting nets and fishing, is not covered by the provisions contained in clause II of section 275 of Act IV of 1884, and requesting that necessary provision may be made in the bill now before for amendment Act IV of 1884.

Malabar.

Sir,

A tank in Bilathi Kulangara in A division has been set apart for bathing purposes by the local municipality.
Recently it was brought to my notice that some mischievous people were casting nets in the tank and fishing in it, thereby fouling the water of the tank.

2. Section 155 of Act of 1881, Contains the penal provisions for fouling the water of reservoir set apart for drinking

ing and bathing purposes. Clause the section applies to drinking water sources and clause (ii) to reservoirs set apart for bathing. Unlike clause (i), the various acts which would constitute an offence are detailed in clause (ii). The fouling of a bathing tank by casting a net and fishing is not covered by any of the acts detailed in clause (ii) though such an act in a tank set apart for drinking purposes will be penal under the expression "or in any other manner fouls the water" in clause i.

3. The papers were laid by me before a meeting of the municipal Council and I have been desired by the Council to bring the matter to the notice of Government with a view to make the necessary provision in the bill now before Government.
A Copy of the Council's resolution is herewith submitted.

I have the honour to be
Sir

your most obedient servant
L. S. Mahapatra
Chairman.
