I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter n^o 1690 dated the 16th

but right that they² (the Union) should not have thrown upon them, without any contribution from the Railways, as at present, the additional burdens which are inevitable from the fact of the existence of railway stations within their limits.

3. I am not aware of the nature or extent of the services rendered by the Nondatur Union to the Railway Company on account of the buildings alone mentioned but if you will be kind enough to favor me with information on this point and with figures showing the annual additional expenditure which the Union has to bear in consequence of the presence within its limits of the Company's buildings, I will then be in a position to reply to your letter under reference.

note Ref no: 1117 dated 21st

2. The Agent and Manager of the Madras Railway in his letter

No. 6499 dated 19th December

1895 states that he was not aware of the nature or extent of the services rendered by the Union to the Railway Company's buildings and requests that an account showing additional expenditure which the Union has to bear on account of the presence of the said buildings, within its limits of the Union, may be sent to him before he is asked to make any representation concerning them. These buildings have not so far as I am aware, been benefited as yet by the funds of the Union. They are within the limits of the Union and like other houses taxed, have the beneficial effect of general sanitary condition of

of the Union Villages preserved and improved by the Union funds. The income and expenditure of the Union is as noted in the margin. It is difficult to analyse the expenditure and allot the portion incurred for each house or building. One advantage of these Railway buildings over others is their situation in a locality far from the crowded houses of the Village & commanding a better water supply, purer air, and clearer surroundings which do not require as much attention from the Union as is necessary for other houses in crowded parts of the Village. In my opinion the buildings may be exempted from the house tax. I have signed J. Jaganathan President
