Sir,

The Madras Act of 1887 amending the District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) came into operation on the 4th instant, as notified by Government. The levy of professional tax as per schedule annexed thereto reduces the income from that source by Rs. 400/1/- as roughly estimated. There is also a loss of Rs. 200/1/- under tax on lands as under Section 49 of the said Act lands solely used for agricultural purposes cannot be taxed. As the expenditure is arranged on a very economical basis and its curtailment cannot be effected without impairing efficiency - while, on the other hand, I fear that a slight increase might be found
