The Council have in this matter acted in a very perfumatory and unsatisfactory manner. To save the trouble of revising the house tax registers, they raise the am^t. from $7\frac{1}{2}\%$ to $8\frac{1}{2}\%$. ~~Now~~ If the registers were revised, & as the last revision ~~was~~ made than 5 years ago, it is quite time that were done, it might very well be that no enhancement of the rate ~~will be found~~ ^{will} be needed, to ~~provide~~ provide the extra income required. It must be assumed that extra income is required, for otherwise the enhancement will be wholly unjustifiable. The Council do not however explain why they want additional resources. This they should have done. They may be now asked to do so, & to report whether a revision would bring in the required funds. It is most highly unexpedient ^{unproper} to assess at the maximum rate on an effete register or until it is clearly ascertained that a lower rate on a correct register will be spectral.

CURRENT No. 1954/97

To

The Secretary to Government,

Local and Municipal Department, Madras.

Sir,

I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to obtain the sanction of Government to levy house and land taxes at $8\frac{1}{2}$ per centum, the maximum rate allowed by the District Municipalities Act Amendment Act III of 1894 from the current year on the existing rentals.

2. The assessment books would however be revised for 1898-99, the last revision being more than 5 years.

As the revision of registers would entail a long time and could not be completed soon, the Council thought it expedient to levy the two taxes at the enhanced rate on the existing rental.

4. Copy of the Council's resolution on the subject is herewith submitted.

I have the honor to be
