Local and Municipal Department Through the Sub-collector of

Sir,
I have the honor to inform you that the house and land tax registers were completely revised in the year 1893-94 and that they should be revised before the close of the current official year and put into force from the beginning of the next official year under section 66(2) of Act IV of 1884, as amended by Act III of 1897. It is considered useful that under Sec 66(2), the next revision will then have to be made in 1898-99

that the buildings and lands are entered in the new registers in the order in which they have been entered in the registers prepared by the Town Survey Department in the beginning of the current year. By adopting the order and plan of the registers, all buildings and lands will be entered in the Municipal registers without any omission, and survey numbers which are serial for the whole town and permanent will be painted in the doors of buildings. On a reference to the Deputy Superintendent, Madras, he informed me that he would be able to supply me with the town survey plans and registers only about the close of 1898. The cost of revising the registers will be about Rs 80. Every year almost all the new buildings and extensions of buildings have been brought under assessment. It has therefore been resolved by the Municipal Council to take up the revision by the end of 1898. A copy of its proceedings of the council on the subject is enclosed for information.
