I raised the question of law at the meeting, as it was doubtful whether these eating houses could properly be described as public "halting places." It is necessary to be aware of one's ground but prosecution fail & litigation ensue.

A distinct ruling would be desirable

CURRENT No. 4094 M

Addressed to J. B. Roche Victoria Avenue

The Secretary to Government

Madam.

Sir:

I have the honour to report that native eating houses have, of late, increased largely and become a source of nuisance all over the town. Passengers to and from Colombo find this Port to be most convenient for landing and embarking. Especially Coolies of estates in Ceylon find shelter in these eating houses and halt in them which are ill-accommodated and invariably sleep in open air even in cold weather along the road committing nuisance at night and rendering the place insalubrious.

With a view to check as far as possible the evil effects arising from such houses, the Council resolves to Compel the keepers of those houses to take out licenses as it is of

of opinion that the eating houses are public halting places under section 188 (in) of the act.
and fix one rupee as license fee per annum for each halting place. This step helps to enforce sanitation in them.

2. A copy of the resolution of the Council on the subject is enclosed.

3. I have therefore the honour to request you to be so good as to obtain the sanction of His Excellency the Governor-in-Council for the levy of the fee.

I have the honour to be
Sir

dated 11th September 1897. requesting to let him know where the eating houses should not be licensed as Public Halting places under section 188 (in) of the act.

The Council is of opinion that native eating houses are public halting places under the meaning of section 188 (in) of the act and that the keepers should take out licenses accordingly.

A fee of one rupee per annum shall be charged for each halting place.
