This is curious. Mr. Tucker, who surely should be in a position to know, writes me that there had been 28 cases in the city. To see with reference to his instructions that the injurious removal of the Resident - keeps it from India about contemplated legislation.

The San. Comd. telegraphed yesterday that there was a suspicious case at Mangalore under investigation.
 Considering the extensive migration from Bombay it is a wonder we have had no isolated cases. There may be something in the theory that the plague cannot become epidemic
