Order. No 13174. dated 2 11-97

The Government agrees with the views expressed by the Sanitary Commissioner in the concluding portion of para 1 of his letter read above; that the entertainment of a ^{single person} ~~person~~ to kill rats cannot therefore be sanctioned would be of ^{little or} no practical advantage. The ^{Govt} ~~proportion~~ statement is accordingly unable to sanction the ~~proportion~~ statement

Enclosure.

SIR,

With reference to your Endorsement No. 56 dated 7th May 1897, I have the honour to state that the proposal of the Municipal Council, Bezwada, is a practical precautionary measure of undoubted importance. It seems to me, however, that if the Council has so far been able to take an interest in this matter, it would be advisable that they arrange that each Councillor in his Ward should attempt his best to persuade the private inhabitants as to the desirability of getting rid of rats, and reporting the numbers killed. Otherwise, the efforts of one man are not likely to be of much utility beyond setting a good example. 2. The Council would probably make more certain of securing a full result, if they made a condition of of payment on the numbers slain by the man they propose to entertain.

I have the honour to be,

sir,

Your most obedient servant,

W. D. M.

Brigadier-General,

Sanitary Commissioner for Madras.
