RESOLUTION OF GOVERNMENT.

The accompanying memorandum by the Plague Commissioner, Bombay Presidency, should be forwarded to all Commissioners, Collectors and Political Agents for information and guidance, in continuation of the memoranda forwarded under Government Resolution No. 5923—3911-P., dated 28th October 1897.

Memorandum by A. WINGATE, Esq., C.I.E., I.C.S., Plague Commissioner, Bombay Presidency, dated 9th November 1897.

Measures to be adopted in Cantonment Bazaars.

The following measures are recommended for adoption in addition to those detailed in Mr. Wingate's note of 27th October 1897 :—

1. The removal of the sick to a hospital situated at a convenient distance from the bazaar.

2. Removal of all the inmates from the infected house.

3. Removal of the healthy from the infected quarter.

For the accommodation of these different classes it will be necessary to erect—

(a) An hospital with the usual out-houses and quarters for attendants. The compound should be surrounded with a bamboo railing and a guard of sepoy placed over it to prevent patients escaping.

(b) A camp for the segregation of individuals removed from the infected houses. The compound to be surrounded with a bamboo railing and a sepoy guard placed over the building to prevent egress of residents and ingress of unauthorized individuals.

(c) A camp for the healthy, the residents in which may be allowed to follow their daily business on condition that they sleep in camp.

(d) In connection with camp (b) separate huts should be erected for males and females, supplied with a suitable number of tubs containing disinfecting solutions for the different castes. Every one entering the camp, to bathe in the solution, all their clothing and personal effects to be disinfected, either in a boiling solution or by washing them freely with the cold solution.

(e) One or more huts for the segregation and observation of any individuals in camps (b) and (c) who show symptoms of illness. In the event of plague developing, they should immediately be removed to hospital.

(f) The houses vacated by the removal of inmates to camps (b) and (c) to be thoroughly disinfected and white-washed according to the instructions already issued. Openings to be made in walls of badly ventilated rooms, and portions of the roof to be removed.

(g) Those in camp (b) to be kept under observation for 10 days; on the expiration of that period they may return to their houses after disinfection of clothes and personal effects, unless a case of plague has occurred in the hut they occupied, when they will be kept under observation for ten days after appearance of last case.

Those in camp (c) to be allowed to return to their houses, after disinfection of cloths and personal effects, five days after complete disinfection of their houses, unless, for any special reason, a longer absence is considered necessary.

(h) The process of disinfection should be placed under the supervision of reliable and competent subordinates. The operation in the case of males to be superintended by warrant officers and of females by nurses or native Dais.

It will be necessary to supply food supplies for camp (b) by agreement with a Bunniah. Both camps should be well lighted, and each should be provided with bathing platforms and latrines for both sexes.

The huts may be made 10' square, a space of 10' between each hut, and main street to be 30' wide. Should a case of plague occur in camp, the hut should be at once evacuated and dismantled. The materials to be saturated with the disinfectant and exposed to the sun for two days. They may then be utilized in the construction of a fresh hut on new ground.

To carry out the above measures so as to render them effective, it will be necessary to divide the Bazaars into quarters. Each quarter to be placed under the charge of a European Superintendent with a sufficient staff. Appointments to the latter should partly be made from the residents of the quarter if possible, as their local knowledge will be found of great value and assistance in the discovery of cases of plague and may render the employment of search parties necessary only occasionally or in exceptional circumstances.

A register of all individuals admitted to the two camps should be kept up to serve as a check on the individuals in residence.
