Perhaps two clerks may be sanctioned. The San. Commr. considers it of great importance that the names & addresses should be taken & forwarded to place of destination, i.e. the names & addresses of all persons from Raichur or beyond. This will be a useful check on the taking of names & addresses at railway stations by the railway & police staff as recently ordered.

Enclosure.

SIR,

I have the honor to state that on my inspecting the "observation station" at Guntakul on the 27th inst., I found that the number of persons professedly from Bombay and other infected localities was less than I have formerly ascertained. Nevertheless, the number of passengers from Raichur was considerable. It seems to me that either the issue by the Bombay Government of orders directing that all third class passengers leaving infected localities by rail should secure a "permit" from the local authority has influenced this result, or that the fact of being examined within this Presidency if coming from infected localities has dictated the policy of representing that that Raichur is the station of original departure. Under these circumstances, the one way out of the difficulty would appear to be, to regard Raichur as an "infected locality," and require that the names and addresses of persons arriving at Guntakul should be registered, and be transmitted by the train guards to the localities concerned to be delivered on the platform ~~to the~~ to the inspecting officer of the authority concerned at the stated destination, or by post when that method would not be suitable. Except in so far as passengers to the City of Madras are concerned, the taking of addresses at this observation station has not hitherto been practised, because it would involve more clerical labour plus medical inspection than could be got through within a reasonable time.

2 Under the above circumstances I suggest for the consideration of Government that two clerks be he employed who could write down the names and addresses of all passengers from Raichur for distribution to ^{the} local authorities concerned.

I have the honor to be
