Note of Mr Chifley on a paper relating to posting of medical officers on plague duty

"Looking to the exodus which is taking place from Bangalore now, I think Observation Stations should be placed at Royakotta on the road from Bangalore to Salem and on the Shulagiri Ghat between Shulagiri and Kistnagiri. If these two places are watched no plague infected persons could get from the north from Collegal on one side almost to the Palmaner taluk on the other except by railway"

" I.G.

I think the Collector of Salem has already proposed this as supplemental to his road inspection Stations on the frontier. It seems a good plan and may be carried out, if not already ordered, which I think has already been done."

6-9-98

A complete observation record for the Salem Stn has been received in C.O. No 1010 P. dy 5-9-98. The places named in the Chief Secy's note are included in the observation Circles, and are protected by the road inspection stations on the Coast.

Please see also D.A.G.'s last note of 1-9-98.

Minute in C.O. 1837 P dy 17-9-98

This case must have slipped past the observation & establishment employed at the Harbour. I think we had better carry out Mr. Stokes' proposal & establish road inspection stations on the Singapore & Klang roads. If you & the D.C. agree, write orders to Collector.
