From J. K. BATTEN, Esq., Acting Collector and District Magistrate, North Arcot, to the Plague Commissioner (through the Sanitary Commissioner for Madras), dated Camp, Tirupati, 17th September 1898, Ref. on Cur. No. 126-P.

The Tahsildar of Chandragiri brings to my notice that a second Brahmotsavam festival takes place this year at Upper Tirupati in the month of October 1898, and suggests that precautionary measures similar to those adopted for the first festival may be taken for the second festival also, as it is not unlikely that persons from infected localities who have been forbidden to attend the first festival will attend the second festival.

2. It appears that the Brahmotsavam festival at Upper Tirupati and the Dasara feast generally coincide with each other, but that when once in four years or so the two do not coincide, a second festival is celebrated during the Dasara as in this year. The second festival, as a rule, attracts very few pilgrims, and no special arrangements are usually made; but, as stated above, pilgrims who have been prevented from attending the first festival may this year want to attend the second.

3. The second festival commences on the 16th October 1898 and closes on the 24th idem. I have, therefore, the honour to request you to be so good as to publish notifications similar to those already published prohibiting the issue of tickets and the attendance of pilgrims from infected areas between the 10th October 1898 and 30th October 1898 (both days inclusive).
