The out break at Alkal which occurred on the 17th September 1898 appears to have resulted from an imported case from Hubli. A Marwari who arrived from Hubli was under medical surveillance at Guledgeri but escaped to Alkal and died there on 31st July 1898, in a house in Setta Peeth. On 19th & 20th August two persons died in that house. Since that there were some suspicious deaths in in the same street but were not recognized as plague till 17th September. There was no previous out break in the village and therefore it was not subjected to disinfection or evacuation.
