Duties of Inspector of Meat and Superin-tendent of Slaughter-house.

He should attend at Hospital every morning for a week to receive not-
-tices in the examination of meat-pat-
and of Sheep brought for inspection.

His duties at Slaughter-house.

1. Every animal before being slaughtered
must be examined and passed as fit
for consumption.
2. He should remain at the Slaughter house during the whole time the Slaughter house is used for Slaughtering.
3. Before the carcasses are removed by lutechers from the Slaughter house they must be stamped by the Inspector
by a Seal (to be supplied by the Muni-cipality) as class I meat or class II meat-the latter including poor meat, but not unfit for consumption.

4. Should a carcass appear to him to be diseased or of suspicious appearance even though the animal had been passed as fit for consumption the Inspector should be empowered to stop the sale of such, pending action being taken as provided by the Municipal Act for destroying such carcasses.

5. The Inspector should stand by and see that the slaughter-house is thoroughly cleansed and flushed with water after use.

The Inspector should be empowered to inspect meat for sale in the bazaar which may have been kept for long a time and therefore become putrid and dangerous for consumption.
