To the Coll. of Ganjam

Hi, I reply by your letter R.C.

No 1284 of 30.9.98. I have the honour to state that ^{I do not think} we shall gain much by the amendment of the regulations suggested by you.

There is no ^{to} clear the platform of all persons before the arrival of the train, and to see that all persons arriving by train are not allowed to leave the platform except by the proper authorities.

Tickets ^{passenger} show the place whence they come. There is no advantage in making a rule that every person found on the railway premises should be bound to give his name & address when any one who wishes to evade the rule by giving a false name or address will almost with certain impunity.

7/10/98 I think this is a great deal of unnecessary work in the local medical and other authorities & needlessly worry people.

The Plague Commissioners,

Sir,

I have the honor to state that, an original Mufassal Regulation 17, only persons arriving from plague-infected areas are legally bound to furnish the particulars required by pass-issuing officers; but it frequently happens that there is difficulty in ascertaining whether persons alighting at Railway stations have come from plague-infected or other areas. I ^{suggest} ~~request~~ that the rule may be so amended that any one within the precincts of a Railway station and any passenger whether coming from an infected area or not should be bound to give their names and addresses and state whence they have come and furnish any other necessary information to any officer on plague duty.

I have the honor to be
Sir,

Your most obedient servant
D. Srinivasulu
