Note for the Secretary.

For para 2 of the draft which involves expenditure of money, a D.O. seems to be insufficient authority. Hence order drafted.

2. In Kurnool, no sheds were thought necessary on the 29-3-98 (Flag B). It was not then known that an addl. medical officer was to be posted to that Dt. so soon.

* feel it. As soon as the observation ⊙s with their establishments & the road frontier inspection stations are started it will be fully one man's work to look after them. The Collr. & Divl. officers have other things to attend to. An Asstt. Collr. is wanted for this work alone, in my opinion —

By the way, if one is appd., the Collr. might be told (and the Bellary Collr. may be told the same) to rig up some sheds ~~[illegible]~~ in convenient places for him to put up in, so as to save dragging his tents about. He'll be able to do much more inspection if he doesn't always require to depend on his tents for shelter. The village people or the people at the road frontier stations will be able to look after the sheds so that no expense need be incurred on that account.

D.O. No. 45

8th March 1898.

My dear Sir,

In accordance with His Excellency's wishes, communicated in your note of 5th, I enquired of Sir Henry Bliss whether in suggesting that an Assistant should be sent to the Collector of Kurnool, he had borne in mind that there is now a native Dy. Collector there.

Sir Henry desires me to tell you for His Excellency's information that he was aware of there being Dy. Collectors in the Distt., of whom one is at Kurnool, but he understands that there is no Dy. Collector without Divisional or Treasury charge. His suggestion was directed towards giving the Collector an assistant whom he could use for organization of Plague measures or as a Personal Assistant.

In that district, eight road Frontier Inspection Stations are being formed under the lately issued additional Regulations; & thirteen observation circles are being constituted along a 20 miles depth of frontier. To look after these will be fully one man's work; the Collector & the Divisional Officers have other things to attend to. For these reasons, Sir Henry suggested that the Collector's hands might be strengthened by attaching an asstt. to his district.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Mahomed Raza Khan

Can you tell me what accommodation is at present available in the 20 miles belt under observation, for European officers who may be appointed to supervise the work of the Plague Inspectors and Supervisors? Probably, there are a sufficient number of travellers' bungalows or D.P.W. rest houses (including those on the Canal) at convenient places. If not, the Govt may perhaps sanction the erection of special sheds for the inspecting officers. Please let me know how many such sheds will be required, and where, and what will be the cost of each. They need not be costly structures, as they are intended merely to facilitate the quick travelling of the inspecting officer, who will be able to do more inspection if he does not always require to depend on his tents for shelter. The sheds can be looked after without any expense by the village officers or the officers in charge of road frontier inspection stations.
