2. These watchers are presumably to be stationed close to Guntur. I do not see much use in watching road routes into the town at present. No plague cases have been reported from any place less than 200 miles from Guntur and any importation that is to be feared is that which may happen by rail. It might be — otherwise were there cases of plague in the district bordering on Kistna, but fortunately there are none just now. The money proposed to be spent on these watchers could be more usefully employed in improving the Sanitation of Guntur and in this way taking precautions that may be too late when plague is so to speak at its doors.
