APPUSUNDARAM PILLAY,
MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER,
3RD DIVISION.

33, Coral Merchant Street,
Madras, 7th November 1898.

The Plague Commissioner
Madras.

Sir,
I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Proceedings No. 470 dated 29th October 1898, and as directed therein I shall be very happy to supply free of all costs the copies of the Plague Essay in all the languages, though I have announced in the local papers to sell them to the Mufassal bodies; an insertion, cancelling my previous announcement will be put in this evening's "Madras Mail" and also in the other local papers.

I have the honor to be
Sir
Your Most Obedient Servant.

NOTE FOR THE Slape Court

In para 1 of the D.C. Order No 470 of 29-10-88, it is stated that Mr. N. Appabundram Pillay "has expressed his intention to supply copies free of all cost to Chairmen of Municipalities and to particular individuals in the Mafassal"

In his letter published on page 5 of the Madras Standard of the 8th November, he writes that the above extract has been written "under a misapprehension of his wishes". The extract is based on the following statement in his letter to the D.C. of the 24 Oct -

"I have the honour to request you to grant me permission to have them distributed through the postal dept to every house occupied in Madras in the language he may desire, ... and to particular individuals and the Chairmen of the Municipalities in the Mafassal to whom they will be addressed by me free of postal charges"
