(involving more than 12 people)
- (b) 12 cases where no passport was given to the traveller.
- (c) 7 cases where incorrect information as to name, address, place of departure &c was given by reporting officer.
- (d) 2 cases where prosecution had to be resorted to for failure to appear for inspection.
- (e) 3 cases where the traveller never reached his reported destination.

3. I cannot describe this as a satisfactory record & I have had to explain several times to the collector of Lombatore of the defects in the inspection at Padanur.

When last at that station the Inspecting Medical Officer told me that the Mail train from Madras does not remain long enough to enable him to make a complete examination of the passengers in view to granting them passports.

I incline to think that this is correct & that better police arrangements would be a more satisfactory plan for inspection & the issue of passports but if Government remains in favour of Padanur it should I think be ascertained whether the arrangements there are such as to admit of careful registration of all passengers for the Nilgiris.
