Malabar	C. R. D. Sylva	Madapalloor Temple Festival, Palghat	24 th February 1898.	About 26,000	Most of the people were accommodated in private houses - others in hotels and Chattrams. The road leading from the town to the temple was repaired wherever much broken up. The fish vegetable and fruit markets were examined and were found to be in a satisfactory condition. Places where crowds were most congregated were lighted. Public and private wells for drinking purposes and two tanks for purposes of ablution. Several water sheds were erected by private individuals. The wells were guarded to prevent pollution. The public wells were hankuized. Two temporary tatty latrines were erected away from the temple, and were promptly cleaned by additional totis employed for the occasion. Filth and rubbish were removed by sweepers employed for the occasion.	None	Good	None	Good	Arrangements were made for the speedy dispersion of the crowd.	The Reporter could ascertain to his own surprise on the first occasion. In the absence of any statement as to the number of the water protection and conservancy staffs employed, whilst it is recognized that some sanitary efforts were made, it is impossible to gauge the adequacy of the arrangements. 29/4/98.
