No. 1433 dated 27th August 1898 to the President, District Board, North Arcot, requesting sanction for borrowing Rs 2000 from each of the endowments of the Arcot Langarkhana and the Arcot Yeomiah School and Rs 1000 from Arcot Orphan School balance and stating that interest might be paid at 4 per cent.

Read also letter Ref. on cur. No. 1136 dated 13th September 1898 from the President, District Board, North Arcot, in reply to the above.

education of their children. Mr. Madhava Rao was precluded from being present at the deliberation of the Committee owing to some official engagements.

3. The first and the most important reform which we would advocate is the amalgamation of the two institutions which are now managed separately. From the records available in the Taluk Board office, we find that the grant with reference to the orphan school was made by a Nawab Walaja of Arcot for the purpose of "teaching Mussalman boys and for subsistence of sixty orphans" and that with reference to the Yeomiah school was also made by the same Nawab for the purpose of "teaching Persian and Arabic to Mohammadan boys of Arcot". It will thus be observed that the two grants in question were made by the same nobleman and for a common object viz. Education of Muhammadan boys of Arcot coupled with a special condition in the case of the former for feeding 60 orphans. As these yeomiahs were originally granted to two different individuals they were maintained separately but as both of them have now passed into the hands of the Board we are inclined to think that there could possibly be no objection to the two grants being blended together. Such a course is absolutely necessary in the interest of the pupils attending the orphan school. The only education which they now receive consists of learning by rote some passages of the Koran and an imperfect acquaintance with some of the rudimentary books in Urdu. This, in our humble opinion, is worse than giving them no education at all. The guardians of such pupils exhibited a very great anxiety to give their wards the benefit of English education in common with the pupils of the Yeomiah school where boys are taught up to the standard of the Primary Examination. We are strongly of opinion that their request is very reasonable. The only means of accomplishing this object will be

Enclosure No. 9a

From
The Subcommittee members
Vellore Taluk Board

To
The President, Taluk Board
Vellore

Sir,

With reference to the Resolution of the Taluk Board dated 7th October last constituting us into a Subcommittee for the purpose of reporting as to how the balances in favour of the Arcot Islamiah and Asfari schools should be spent, we have the honour to state as follows:

2. We met at Arcot on the 16th October in the premises of the Islamiah School and invited the parents and guardians of the pupils attending the two institutions to meet us for the purpose of ascertaining from them their views regarding the reforms and improvements to be effected therein. We are glad to note that our invitation was duly responded to and a large number of parents attended the meeting and gave us the benefit of their views and suggestions. We regard this as an indication of the growing interest on the part of such parents in the

the amalgamation of the two institutions as observed above. For if such a course is not adopted, it will necessitate the opening of the required number of classes in connection with the orphan school itself, the consequent entertainment of the requisite staff which the finances of the Institution cannot admit of. By the plan we propose, the pupils of the two institutions will read together under the present staff of the Yeomiah school which, with the addition of one extra teacher will be sufficient to cope with the requirements of the proposed amalgamated institution. As usual 30 orphan boys will continue to be fed out of the allowance until they pass the Primary Examination. We may also remark that we can conceive of no possible objection which preclude us from imparting English Education to the pupils of the orphan school. The condition of the original grant viz "teaching Mussalman boys" is sufficiently elastic to admit of the allowance being utilized for imparting English Education as well. Our argument is further strengthened by the fact of English Education being imparted to the pupils of the Yeomiah school in spite of the conditions of this grant being more stringent and more definite than those of the orphan school to wit "teaching Persian and Arabic to the Muhammadan boys of Arcot".

4. The next matter which the parents pressed on our consideration was that of granting scholarships to such of the boys of the Yeomiah and Orphan school (amalgamated) as pass the Primary Examination from this institution and who, owing to poverty, are precluded from prosecuting their studies further. A suggestion was made to us by some of the parents to raise the standard of the Yeomiah school to that of a Lower Secondary school so as to qualify the pupils for the Lower Secondary Examination but we find that such a course is not practicable inasmuch as the expenditure incidental

to the opening of the required number of higher classes cannot be met out of the Yeomiah allowance. The only other alternative for encouraging those that pass the Primary Examination from this institution is to give them scholarships out of the Yeomiah fund. We have also satisfied ourselves that in a majority of cases parents are too poor to bear the expenses of Education of their children. The Headmaster of the Arcot middle school assured us that several boys who passed the Primary Examination from the Yeomiah school joined his Institution but had to leave the same in the middle of their scholastic career owing to sheer poverty. This circumstance proves beyond a shadow of doubt that there exists in the minds of the parents to give their children the benefits of higher education than that provided for in the Yeomiah school but that their pecuniary embarrassments stand as an insurmountable obstacle in the way of their achieving that object. Taking into consideration the fact that Government is trying its level best to encourage the community by holding out special facilities we would strongly recommend that ~~3~~ 2 (two) scholarships of the value of Rs 2, 2½ and 3 respectively may be instituted in each of the three forms of the Arcot middle school available for such of the pupils of the Yeomiah and orphan schools as are unable to prosecute their studies owing to poverty subject to such conditions and stipulations as the Board may deem fit to lay down in this behalf.

5. The Board is aware that the nature of religious and secular Education imparted in these Institutions is so meagre as not to be of any practical utility to its recipient and such as does not, in the least, afford him any facilities to fight out the battle of life. It is certainly impossible to make provision for the further education of all the boys who pass their Primary Examination from this Institution nor can we presume that every one of such boys will possess the inclination and the desire to prosecute his studies to a higher stage. A few of them will necessarily be leaving the Institution every

The Board is aware that the nature of religious and secular education imparted in these Institutions is so meagre as not to be of any practical utility to its recipient and such as does not, in the least, afford him any facilities to fight out the battle of life. It is certainly impossible to make provision for the further education of all the boys who pass their Primary Examination from this Institution nor can we presume that every one of such boys will possess the inclination and the desire to prosecute his studies to a higher stage. A few of them will necessarily be leaving the Institution every

was perfectly content with the imperfect and rudimentary knowledge which they have acquired. Further in a town like Arcot where aristocratic families have become entirely extinct and which is now populated mostly by the artizan and labouring classes, various causes operate to induce the parents to put an abrupt end to the education of their children. When they find that their children after spending a number of years in school and even after passing the highest examination which it can prepare them for, come back to them without having acquired any tangible means of earning their livelihood, begin to think that the number of years spent in school have been really wasted and that this period might profitably have been utilized in learning the trade of their ancestors. We have also known of instances in which parents have withdrawn their children from school on the ground that by helping them in their respective avocation, they could earn something for their daily subsistence. It was therefore, the unanimous desire of the parents present at our meeting that side by side with the religious and secular education which we impart in this Institution, provision may also be made for giving their children the benefit of Industrial education and we would strongly commend this for the favourable consideration of the Board. It was suggested to us that considering the nature of Arcot, lacemaking and carpentry will be the most useful trades to be taught and we agree in this view. The necessary outlay that may be required for the purchase of instruments and materials may be met from the savings. We estimate the initial outlay at about Rs 500.

6. We are of opinion that advantage may be taken of the large balance now available by constructing or purchasing a building for the two Institutions. The Board is now paying a monthly rent of Rs 7 to the building wherein these institutions are located and we think that this expenditure may reasonably be avoided and become available for expenses in connection with the educational requirements of the Mapp- seeing that the Institutions possess financial affluence to acquire a building of their own. The Orphan school building which was handed over to the Board is too small to be useful and may, with advantage, be disposed of. A new building may either be constructed or purchased. The former course will be more irksome, while the latter will be easier and more advantageous. We think a sum of Rs 2000 may be sanctioned for purchasing a convenient building for locating the two Institutions and providing the necessary accommodation for the Industrial Department.

Sir,

Under the management of this Taluk Board, there are two Muhammadan aided schools viz the Yeomiah school at Arcot and the Orphan school, Arcot. These two schools were established by the Nabob of Walaja for the education of Mussalman boys residing at Arcot. The Arcot Yeomiah ⊗ school was transferred to the Local Fund Board in 1884 under G.O. No 222 Mis. dated 31st January 1884 and the Arcot Orphan × school in 1894 under G.O. No 2023 L. Mis: dated 12.10.94. The above two schools have to their credit large balances as shewn below besides the usual annual Government contributions ⁂.

With a view to effect some improvement in the condition of these two Institutions by the utilization of the large balance available, the Taluk Board

⊗ This was established for the purpose of "teaching Persian and Arabic to Mahammadan boys of Arcot." But the pupils are now taught up to the primary examination in English.

× This was established for the purpose of "teaching Mussalman boys and for subsistence of sixty orphans". The education which the boys now receive consists of learning by rote some passages of the Koran and an imperfect acquaintance with some of the rudimentary books in Urdu. 30 orphan boys are now fed as boarders
