Proceedings, No. $\frac{112}{9}$, 13th January 1899.

JANUARY.

Inspection Station, Tiruvannamalai.

Approving of the arrangements made by the Collector of South Arcot in connection with the inspection of trains from the north at Tiruvannamalai; and requesting him to hold in abeyance for the present his proposals to open road inspection stations.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE PLAGUE COMMISSIONER.

From L. M. WYNCH, Esq., I.C.S., Acting Collector of South Arcot, to the Plague Commissioner, Madras, dated 10th January 1899, Ref. on No. 63-Eng.

With reference to your telegram of the 9th, I have the honour to state that arrangements for inspection of trains from the north can best be made at Tiruvannamalai. A regular plague camp has already been established there and a small menial staff has already been entertained. The Sanitary Inspector has been ordered by wire to inspect trains from the north. One hospital assistant should be sent there at once. The Surgeon-General will be addressed by wire to send a man, meanwhile the District Surgeon will be asked to send the Ulundoorpet hospital assistant. A trained nurse can be obtained in Cuddalore and she will be sent to Tiruvannamalai at once. The Chairman of the Municipal Council will complete the ambulance staff by entertaining dhoolie bearers and male and female ward attendants. A small shed must be erected at the station for inspection of suspected passengers, there being no suitable place at present. Orders are issuing to the Sub-Collector and Chairman to attend to this.

The Sub-Collector will also be requested to select sites for establishment of observation camps on the Vellore-Tiruvannamalai and Vellore-Gingee roads, and report what establishments would be required there.

PROCEEDINGS—No. 112, dated 13th January 1899.

The Collector's proposals are approved except that he is requested to hold in abeyance for the present his proposals to open road inspection stations.
