Rent on account of the telephone Communication of the Madras Municipal office with the Govt exchange.

FOR ORDERS.

To 2nd Sept 40. for Cl.

In October last, when Madras was thought to be seriously threatened with plague, the following offices were put in telephonic communication with the Government exchange at the suggestion of the Surgeon-General
1. The office of the Surgeon-General
2. " " " President, M.C. Madras
3. The Medical Store depot
4. The General Hospital.
- Vide G.O. No 1389 P. M. d. 28.10.98.
2. The President, M.C. Madras now requests Government to exempt the Municipality from payment of any rent towards the telephone as the communication was brought about on the suggestion of the S.G. for the convenience of.

Government. But it cannot be said that the telephone arrangement would have been an advantage to the Municipality if it had been actually attacked or had been anticipated. But as subsequent events have fortunately proved that the Municipal work would not have suffered during the past four months in the absence of this telephone communication, it is submitted that the Municipality may be exempted from bearing any portion of the cost incurred in this connection. In recommending to the telephone, the S. G. said that "the project is to conduct efficient & expeditious administration of the Government work without being hindered by financial considerations to veto it, as otherwise delays detrimental to the interests of the patients & institutions alike may possibly occur". Fortunately Mr. [unclear] has not appeared here & consequently there not much use has been made of the telephone communication, but it is submitted that such communication when actually made of will benefit the Municipality more than the Govt & that there are no grounds to grant exemption.
