work and grave responsibility of looking after nine schools. This successive change of hands in the duties is not, I imagine, conducive to the healthy progress of education in this Municipality. That a more satisfactory amount of work in matters of education, is turned out in the neighbouring Municipalities, has its reason, in the simple fact that they see that they remunerate and encourage the Superintendent as far as their funds allow them. I observe that persons who are already discharging heavy duties are not satisfactorily paid for their legitimate work. I cannot but consider that it is quite improper to saddle them with additional duties without any remuneration whatever. The matters have now reached such a pass that nobody in the Educational department is willing to accept the responsible post without any remuneration.

No amount of coercion or inducement would, as far as I know, be able to make the employees in the Educational department accept this onerous duty without any encouragement. Having the finances of the Municipality in view, I, in union with the Council, propose, as a matter of indispensable necessity, that a remuneration of Rs 500 (Five rupees only) is to be monthly given to the Superintendent so that he may throw his heart and soul into the work to put the educational matters on a more satisfactory condition.

S. Flagell.

Though Government declined to sanction this sum on several occasions, the Council considering the educational interests of the Municipality is obliged to submit this for favorable consideration.
