4. Measures taken for the suppression of plague

(1) Jagarapuram. The people still live in huts built outside the village. Disinfection has been completed and the village is being rendered fit for reoccupation after a reasonable time. There is only one case now in camp and it is progressing favourably towards recovery. There have been no fresh attacks in this village since 1st November 1899.

(2) Alalli. There was one suspected case in this village on the 11th instant and another on the 21st and a genuine case on the last-mentioned date. The village has been evacuated and the to huts erected in the open air. The infected house has been disinfected and the dirty clothing &c burnt.

(3) Malligalli. There was one suspected case on the 12th after which the contacts were removed to huts built in open fields. No cases have occurred since.

(4) Silukkavadi village. The plague cases occurred in the hamlet of Muddumalli hundi attached to this village. The hamlet has been completely evacuated, the people being put in sheds constructed in the open air. The thatches of the houses have been removed and the houses themselves disinfected with perchloride of mercury. There is only one case now in camp and it shows signs of recovery.

(5) Kollegal Town. There was only one suspected case on the 19th October 1899. None has occurred since.

5. Success of plague measures. The measures hitherto adopted have tended to check the outbreak of plague. The villages now infected are all situated on the Mysore frontier and there is therefore considerable difficulty in preventing the movement of people from one village to another. A strong cordon staff appears therefore to be necessary if complete immunity is to be secured.

6. Attitude of the people in regard to measures. This is not unsatisfactory. The people of Alalli raised objection to evacuate the villages and considerable persuasion was, therefore, necessary to induce them to do it. It is, however, gratifying that no resort to compulsory measures was necessary.

7. General remarks. Owing to the peculiar situation of the infected villages on the Mysore frontier it is difficult to stamp out the disease from them unless preventive measures on an extensive scale (involving the appointment of a strong Cordon staff) are adopted. The results hitherto attained may, however, be regarded as satisfactory.

4. Date of present attack.— 23-11-99

5. When reported by telegram ?— 25-11-99

6. Imported or indigenous ?— Indigenous

7. Brief history of case.— The patient seems to have gone with others to the neighbouring village of Theramballi on the 17th instant to see her relations & when she returned to her village on the 19th idem she showed symptoms of fever & head-ache. She was subsequently examined by the Sanitary Inspector & the Hospital Assistant who has pronounced the case as one of suspicious plague. The Tahsildar who also seems to have proceeded to the spot says that in enquiries of this kind the villagers suppress the truth & often furnish incorrect information. He is of opinion that the patient must have caught the infection either from Tagarapuram or from the other infected villages in the neighbourhood.

8. If imported, had patient a passport ?—
   Not imported.

9. Steps taken to isolate and treat the patient.— The patiant has been removed to a hut outside the village & is being attended to by the Hospital Assistant.

10. Steps taken towards the segregation of contacts.— The contacts have been segregated in huts ~~built~~ built outside the village.

11. Steps taken towards the evacuation and disinfection of the infected house.— The infected house ~~XXXXXX~~ as well as the whole village is being evacuated. Disinfection will be completed shortly.

12. Was there any opposition on the part of the inmates of the infected house or of the people of the village to the plague measures?— The people appear to have been at first reluctant to leave the village but on being warned of the danger they seem to have consented to evacuate.

13. Remarks.— All the precautions necessary are said to have been taken.
