Standing Order No. 34.

It is hereby laid down for the information and guidance of Medical officers in civil employ that when Medical subordinates serving under them receive orders for transfer and the relief does not arrive within two weeks from date of such order, local arrangements should at once be made for their relief, and in the event of this not being possible, an immediate report should be made to this office explaining the reasons and requesting instructions.

2 As regards emergent transfers, however, these ought invariably to be carried out at once.
