ABSTRACT.

PRECIS.

SIR,

With reference to your letter No. , dated the

of 189 , I have the honour to bring to your notice that the Madras Municipality are in the habit of granting permission for laying "Pipe lines" for oil Companies, which cross the Beach road, without informing me of the fact of such permission having been granted.

On the 28 of this month I was proceeding to Royapuram on inspection and found that the road a little south of the Royapuram Station had been opened out and pipes laid across the Harbour Defence Cables, which were entirely open to the air.

The telephone cables in connection with the Harbour Defences run along the Beach Road as far as Royapuram and I wrote to the President of the Madras Municipality in July last, when some other pipes were being laid, almost at the same spot, asking that I should be supplied with early information of any projected alterations, or works, that might interfere with these cables, but have not received any intimation of these new works up to the present.

These cables are of the utmost importance and are very expensive and it is quite impossible to maintain the system in proper order if they are liable to be disturbed

and damaged through similar works
being carried out without my knowledge,
and I shall be much obliged if instructions
can be sent to the President of the Madras Municipality that I am always to have early intimation of all projected works of a similar kind that can in any way interfere with these cables along the beach road from Parry's Corner to Royapuram Railway Station.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

informing the Superintendent.

The superintendent has also undertaken to have more attention paid to the inspection of these lines.

The first pipe was put in on 8th December 1898 and the laying of the pipes completed on 6th January 1899 - from that to the 17th January the culverts were being plastered.

The Superintendent only discovered it on 28th January 1899.
