District.	Name of reporter.	Name of festival and when held.	Date of festival.	Number assembled.	Accommodation and sanitary arrangements made.	Water-supply.	Conservancy.	Epidemic disease.	General health.	Recommendations.	Remarks.
Malabar.	C. R. D'Sylva.	Madapalle Temple festival at Palghat.	2nd March 1899.	About 25,000.	No special accommodation was necessary as people assembled only in the afternoon for three hours and again at midnight to witness a display of fireworks. Most of these persons came from Palghat town and from the adjacent villages. The few who came from distances were accommodated in private houses and in hotels. The road leading from the town to the temple was repaired where necessary. Places where crowds were most congregated were lighted.	Public and private wells and water sheds erected by private individuals for drinking purposes and two tanks for purposes of abution. The public wells were hankinized and were guarded by a sanitary maistry to prevent pollution.	Two temporary tatty latrines were erected away from the temple and were promptly cleaned by two additional toties employed for the occasion. Two additional sweepers for two days were also employed to remove filth and rubbish.	Nil.	Good.	Arrangements were made for the speedy dispersion of the crowd.	A few "saw-dust urinals" would have been of utility. (Signed) W. G. KING, Lieut.-Col., I.M.S., Sanitary Commissioner for Madras. 29th March 1899.
