Sir

In reference to G.O No. 2150 M. Dis dated 15th December 1898, I have the honor to submit that in accordance with the Collector's letter Ref on our No 2059 of 98 dated 18th July 1898 asking for an adjustment of the budget so as to make sufficient provision for meeting the plague charges, statements were prepared setting free a sum of Rs 12,200 for the purpose and forwarded for his approval. This was accepted by the Collector in his proceedings

Rs 2059 of 98 dated 7th September 1898.
Rev

2 But I was subsequently in receipt of another proceedings D. Dis Rs 1979 Rev of 98 dated 14th November 1898 from the same officer, which shows that an allotment of Rs 2020 for meeting the paper charges will do. The revised budget was accordingly adjusted and submitted for approval (vide my letter No 1085 dated 20th December 1898). By this means, much public inconvenience which would otherwise have resulted was saved.

3 When Calcutta was plague-infected the Civil Surgeon and the Surgeon-General urged upon the Council the necessity of organising and equipping plague camps, there being direct and constant steam communication between these ports. The Surgeon-General who inspected the sheds then visiting, observed that they were inadequate (his letter No 1239 dated 17th August 1898). About that time there were reports of thatched sheds in several towns having been set fire to by the people during moments of excitement. This as well as local experience of the cholera sheds in the town having once been destroyed by fire by the rowdies of the place induced the Council to erect substantial Mangalore tile roofed wards with brick walls and cemented floors for males and females so as to be of use for plague or other contagious diseases, as it will be saving in the long run. The same course was also urged upon the Council by the local Civil Surgeon.

4 The item referred to in para 2 of the G. O. consists of sums spent for this Construction as well as the Construction of out-houses.

I have the honor to be
Sir

Your most obedient Servant

S. K. Paragun.

Chairman.
