CURRENT No. 2801

There is nothing in about this travelling expenses from Railway fare in the terms under which the nurse was engaged for plague duty. She has been posted for duty at Bellan & if authorized to proceed to the house out of that place on duty, she seems entitled to the travelling expenses as laid down in the C.A.

The ~~aff~~ papers regarding this nurse, allowing first class passage for the sea journey & double first class by rail. If there is frequent touring within Order a short distance, a conveyance allowance maybe allowed but this is not provided for in the engagements & requires the sanction of Govt.
