SIR,

I inspected your Camp arrangements putting on the helmet - that part real.
There is little doubt that the existing accommodation is insufficient for the requirements, & I do not expect you to take any steps to increase your accommodations. The plans of hospitals which are in progress; these I do not think will appear to be so. The accommodation for contacts is not to be copied in any addition. Separate huts for each family or group of contacts should be constructed with beds to house from 5 to 8 persons.
If this is not done a large number of contacts will be crowded into a few huts, which is a very bad plan.

The consequence of a large number of contacts being crowded into a few huts is that the risk of infection is greatly increased. It is essential to have the contacts separated from the large huts.
