Since the pay should be debited to "Education", the sanction of Govt for increasing the charge is not necessary. The Administrator would probably have to this time ceased to do this special work as the school of which he is the master would have been reopened. No action seems necessary.

With reference to the endorsement of the Plague Commission dated 29th April 1899, in letter from the Collector of Salem No. 851 p.c. dated 15th April 1899, I have the honor to state that if the School-master retains his appointment as Head-master of the Hosur Board School, his pay should continue to be debited to "Education" and not to "Plague". If a separate gramastu is sanctioned, the charge will apparently be debitable to Local Funds.
