In the circumstances reported by the Coltr, the proposal to transfer the Inspection station from Karaipalayam to Shimham, is approved. The estimate for the construction of the sheds at the proposed inspection station are also approved, but the actual cost of the sheds after utilizing the materials of the sheds at Karaipalayam, should be reported.

Note The cost of the sheds at Karaipalayam was Rs 1830. (under Page 132 70-144).

It is not clear why, if Karaipalayam is unhealthy, the fact was not brought to notice before, and why sheds were allowed to be constructed at that place at such a heavy cost. The dimensions of the sheds proposed are

The cost may be reduced by making the roof of the sheds flat instead of sloping. This will render a reduction in the height of the ridge of the roof. For more 26/3/89

No.	Date.

Copy of a letter ^{from} L. D. Williams, M.D., District Medical and Sanitary Officer, Coimbatore to the Collector of Coimbatore, Referred to. 192 of 1899, dated 3rd February 1899.

In reply to your reference on Cur No 392 of 1899 dated 30th January 1899, I have the honour to state that in my opinion the site on which the present Plague Inspection Station at Karaipaloiyam is situated is quite unsuited for its purpose being simply a swamp in which sound men cannot retain their health, the Hassanur valley being notoriously unhealthy and much less sick men recover. I inspected it at the end of November and expect to be there again in about a fortnight. Should I change my opinion I will immediately let you know. Meanwhile I would suggest the materials being removed 10 miles along the road near Coimbatore to Demibum where there is a site available behind the chattram, on the ridge on the left of the road from Patyamaungalam to Hassanur. From enquiries made on the spot I think this would sufficiently command the traffic. The new camp might be built on a much less elaborate scale than the old one.

Coimbatore District MAGISTRATE'S OFFICE,
Dated 12th March 1899.

FROM

Esq.,

Acting Collector & District MAGISTRATE OF

Coimbatore,

To

THE

Plague Commissioner,
Madras

SIR,

As both the District Medical and Sanitary Officer Coimbatore and the Deputy Collector, Head Quarter Division are of opinion that the site of the present Plague Inspection Station at Narasipaladigan is quite unsuited for its purpose. In view of the notorious unhealthiness of the locality, it has been proposed to transfer the camp to Dhyanham (about 10 miles from the present station) which is considered to be comparatively more healthy and.

and otherwise well suited for the purpose. If the proposal meets with your approval, sheds for the present will have to be erected at that place for the following purposes:-

- | | |
|---|----------------|
| (1) A male hospital to accommodate 4 patients | 500 |
| (2) A female hospital for two patients | 285 |
| (3) Two latrines | 105 |
| (4) Accommodation for the Hospital Assistant. | 175 |
| (5) Two sheds for two police Constables and | 230 |
| (6) A shed for the hospital servants | |
| | Rs 1295 |

I have the honour to enclose enclose herewith for your sanction and ratification 5 estimates prepared by the Local Funds Assistant Engineer. The materials of the sheds at the Karai Palayam Inspection Station near Dinbaram have been ordered to be removed near Dhumbam and will be utilized in the construction of the sheds. This will, I think, greatly diminish the cost.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient servant
W. Murray
