[Despatch Abstract.]

Inspection at Arkonam & Perambore

Communicating to the Collector of North Arcotletter from the President M. M. C. regarding a plague patient who escaped examination at Arkonam & Perambore.

NOTE FOR THE P.C.

Perambur was infection Station under City Regulation 12, but ~~the~~ the Madras municipal authorities ~~do~~ not treat it as such & do not have a medical inspection there, it is unfair to blame the medical officer of Arkham.
If the man was very ill at the Central Station, ~~it~~ could not have been so at Perambur and surely the passport issuing office at Perambur ought to have been able to notice it.

Please see papers put up. There is no order stating that there should be no inspection at Perambur

observation at Perambur is hardly surprising, as he may have been seen only by a writer, and it is not supposed to be a medical inspection station, but he must have had fever when he passed through Arkham an hour before; and, therefore, I consider that the medical officer there should be informed that a man who probably had high fever, which was allowed to remain in the train. The patient died on the 21st of pneumonic plague.

Sir

I wish to call your attention to the plague case imported into Madras a few days ago.

The man, an achari, came from Kolar, arriving in Madras on ~~evening~~ ^{morning} of 17th at the Central Station. Apparently he was so weak that he was unable to proceed to Triplicane and rested several hours in Adami's Garden adjacent to the station. He was removed to Chagalaraya Mudally Street in the evening & slept the night in Triplicane. When found early on the 18th he had a temperature of about 104° F.
That he managed to escape
