L. E. BUCKLEY, Esq., I.C.S.,

PLAGUE COMMISSIONER,

To

SIR,

I have the honour to return the papers received with your letter No 556⁵⁵⁷ of 15-12-94 and to state that the plague allowance of Rs 10 is admissible only when a Hospital Assistant has been ~~expressly~~ specially transferred from station where he was discharging his ordinary duties to a distant station ^{solely} for plague work. If he is relieved ^{entirely} of his ordinary work & put on plague duty at the same station, then he is not entitled to this allowance, ~~but if~~ ^{with} the fact that a Hospital Assistant is doing only plague work alone is a reason for granting the plague allowance & not for withholding it.

The papers do not show clearly whether in the two cases under consideration, the Hospital Assistants were specially transferred for plague duty from a distance. If this was the case, they are both entitled to the allowance.

Yours,

As far as I can see the Madras G.O. is not in accordance with the concluding paragraph sentence of paragraph 4 of India's letter. As to that, neither is it stated, as they do in addition.

(d) duty, their duties being confined to inspection of passengers, & they being relieved of other duties.

Shew India's

(d) Please see note on 14 page. men doing plague work alone get their ordinary pay + allowance of 10 Rs or more, eight.

(e) - These relate to leave concessions & are contained in G.O. No 2307 dt 8-12-97

But does the Government take Caret this?

It speaks only of allowance being given to those who do extra work
9/8/98

No. 6 of 1898 letter states that the "military" provide a separate scale of remuneration for all officers wholly employed on plague duty & that they proceed to provide allowances of subordinate officers doing plague work in addition to their ordinary duties. The two classes are kept separate & are paid differently.
