To

The Accountant General, through the Financial Department.
" Local and Municipal Department.
" District Magistrate, Salem
" Inspector General of Police.

From the Inspector General of Police, Nowsera, No. G, dated 14th February 1899:-

I have the honour to request the sanction of the Government for the enlistment temporarily of an additional Police force for employment in connection with plague preventive measures in the Kaira District.

3. The temporary force already sanctioned for that district is one inspector and twenty two first class constables, but the number of constables actually employed on what may be described as permanent duties is 33. In addition to these 33 constables, men are constantly requisitioned for the guarding of plague patients and their contacts and for the protection of property left in villages that have been temporarily vacated on account of the plague. The drain on the police has been so heavy that much of the ordinary police work has perforce been left undone, and the Superintendent and the Collector have now asked for an additional temporary force of 46 first class constables, i.e. 63 as shown above plus 15 for the temporary guard duties just mentioned, less 33 already sanctioned (33 + 15 - 33 = 46). To supervise the men employed at inspection stations and on other duties in the sub-division the Superintendent asks for a temporary inspector and a fourth grade Head constable, but I think that one first grade Head Constable on Rs. 35 a month will be sufficient, if the Government also sanctions a house allowance of Rs. 15 a month to enable him to move quickly from one post to another. The total additional cost will be Rs. 408 per mensem, or about Rs. 600 in the current financial year; this sum can be met from the provision already sanctioned. As the matter is urgent I have directed the Superintendent to enlist at once, in anticipation of sanction, 30 first class constables.

3. The plague camp at Jolarpet is now guarded by sepoys, but the military authorities raise objections to the guard remaining there any longer, on the ground that the sepoys are really performing police duties. I venture to think that the duty is very like any other guard duty performed by soldiers, and I hope the objection will not be pressed at a time when the strain on the police is so great. Moreover, I think that the presence of even a small military force in that neighbourhood has a good moral effect, and on this account also I deprecate the withdrawal of the guard. The Plague Commissioner, however, considers the objection a valid one and, if the Government takes the same view, an additional temporary police force of 2 Head Constables and 30 constables costing Rs. 180 per mensem will be necessary, and I solicit sanction for their employment. I should add, however, that it is by no means easy to obtain really suitable temporary men, and, when obtained, they are anxious to resign their appointments after very short experience of the work.

1.	Head Constable,	3rd Grade	Rs. 30

6	Constables,	1st Class	Rs. 48

Endorsement on the Plague Commissioner, Ref. on C. No. 2033, dated 30th January 1899 on the above :-

Forwarded with the request that the sanction applied for by the Inspector General may be accorded.
