READ. Report of the Secretary to the Municipal Council Rajahmundry regarding the revision of house and land taxes.

Resolution no 2324
15-4-88

In the Budget, it was estimated that the net increase, in the House tax on account of the Rural revision then going on would be about 2000 rs. Now the revision has been completed by the Secretary and the final result of his revision is that there is an increase of Rs 5380-5-5 (ie) ~~the~~ 3380 rs above the amount estimated in the Budget. Supposing that the Council will find it it necessary to remit on appeals, a sum of about Rs 1000, there will be a clear increase of Rs 2380 over the budgeted estimate. Under these circumstances, when the increase of Rs 2350 (the amount shown in <sup>of the G.O. on the increase to be obtained</sup> para 3, by raising the tax to its maximum) is obtained by the remission, the Council does not consider it necessary to raise the rate of house tax. The rate now already levied is high enough, and it will be both inexpedient, and inadvisable to raise the rate. There is an increase of about Rs 250 in the land tax according to the Secretary's remission

Sir,

In reference to the observations of Government in para 3 of G. O. No 3559 dated 13th March 1899 (received in the office on 30-3-99) reviewing the Budget and calling upon the Council to show cause why the house tax should not be raised to its maximum, have the honour to state that the remission of house and land taxes has been completed by the Secretary; and the result is that the former has increased by Rs 5380-5-5.

and the latter by No 249-111-4. In consideration of this increase, the Council is of opinion that it is undesirable to raise the percentage as recommended by the Sale-Collector and the Collectors, now that the object of raising the percentage has been attained in consequence of the general revision the lands have undergone.
Besides at this time when taxes have been already increased, on account of the revision, it is not desirable to raise the rate to its maximum, as it is sure to be felt as a hardship.

Under these circumstances, the Council considers that it is not advisable or expedient to raise the rate and that it is desirable to have this margin left for any future contingency. The Council therefore prays that that Government be pleased not to raise the rate. A copy of the Council's resolution on the subject is enclosed. A copy of this letter is submitted to Govt through the District Officer.

2. The revision has resulted in a large increase. Even if half the increase is remitted on appeal, there will still remain more than the amount to raise which it was proposed to raise the percentage of taxation.

3. I think the proposed increase may be deferred till the net increase by revision is ascertained.
