My dear Sir,

Permit me to bring to your kind notice to fact that one lady political prisoner No 782 by name, Srinathar Govindammal wife of Mr. Syyannathar founder of Puliampatti Kadi vestralayam, who is undergoing imprisonment in the Vellore jail from the 19th Jan, is put under 'C' class.

I should like to point out that she is a respectable lady and considering her position and status in life she ought to be put in a higher class.

I would be obliged if you will be pleased to enquire and order that she may be put under 'B' class which she properly deserves.

Yours sincerely

Honorable Dewan Bahadur

2. My local and confidential enquiries show that Srimathi
Govindammal's husband, Ayya Muthu Goundar is the manager of Khadi Vastralayam at Punjaipuliyampatti on Rs.55/- per mensem. He was also getting an income of about Rs.50/- per mensem in connection with his contributions to Tamil Journals such as 'Tamil Nadu' etc.
He has no other sources of income.

3. He owns no property either ancestral or acquired. He is a person of some culture.

4. His wife is said to own landed properties to the value of about Rs.3,000/- in a village near Coimbatore.

5. Her life in Puliyampatti was no better than an average middle class lady. She was attending to her household duties herself without the assistance of a servant.

6. I am credibly informed that Ayyamuthu Goundar was placed in 'C' class when he was convicted last year.

The accused Govinda Ammal w/o Ayyanuthu Goundan Punjaipuliyampatti is charged under Section 188 I.P.C. for having disobeyed the order of 15th January 1932 issued by the Sub Magistrate, Satyamangalam prohibiting meetings speeches and processions in pursuance of the Civil Disobedience movement inaugurated by the Congress in and around Punjaipuliyampatti village for a radius of 7 miles. The accused went on the road to Coimbatore from the Khaddar shop at Punjaipuliyampatti with national flag singing national songs on 18th Jan. 1932.

The accused pleads guilty to the charge. I find her guilty and sentence her to suffer simple imprisonment for 6 months.
