five years ending Fasli 1303 (1893-94)

Remarks

Fresh pattas are issued once in 3 or 4 years during which changes have taken place hence the large receipts in F/1303. These appear to include also cost of pattas issued in Fasli 1302.
Increased receipts in Fasli 1300 due to issue of new pattas after settlement; those in 1303 to issue of new pattas in Palkonda Taluk taken under Government management in F/1302.
Figures not strictly accurate as regular accounts were not maintained to show the sale of these forms. Large receipts in F/1301 due to exceptionally large number of changes in ryots' holdings and to collection of arrears.

No satisfactory explanation is available for the variations from year to year but some Tahsildars say that prior to F/1300 fresh pattas were issued in cases where changes occurred in the holdings instead of the changes being noted in the old pattas.

Decrease in F/1300 due to fewer darkhasts owing to bad season.
Increase in F/1300, 1301 & 1303 due to introduction of settlement in portions of the district. In F/1302 also some taluks were settled but the cost of the pattas appears to have been collected in the following year.
Fall in F/1301 attributed to fewer darkhasts owing to bad season.

Decrease in F/1300 due to late jamabandi owing to bad season and the inspection necessary thereby. Ryots do not buy fresh pattas every year and hence decrease in F/1303.
No regular accounts were kept up to August 1894 for the sale of pattas. The figures are therefore not accurate. For some years past no pattas have been issued as the ryots refused to receive them unless the Kisan Mirasidar was entered in the pattas.

Variations due to ordinary fluctuations.

Variations attributed mainly to indifference of ryots in obtaining pattas which have to be paid for beforehand. Decrease also partly due to the orders requiring that changes should be noted in old pattas instead of fresh pattas being issued. Figures exclude one taluk for which information is said to be not available.

The comparatively highest receipts in some years were due to collection of arrears.

Pattas in the form prescribed in the special manual for the District are printed and issued in single quarter sheet paper & no charge is prescribed for them in Board's Standing Order 26.

The high figure in F/1299 is due to the issue of revised pattas for F/1297 & 1298 in certain taluks.

Resolution

Referring to G.O. No: 2400 mis: dated 15th June 1895, the Board begs to submit a statement showing the receipts realized by the sale of pattas in each district during the five years ending fasli 1303 (1893-94) - Taking the Presidency as a whole, there has been a steady increase in the receipts. The total amount realized, however

REVENUE SETTLEMENT.
Enclosure No. 3

No. 4004.

can never be large, as pattas are issued free of cost to all ryots paying Rs 10 and less - these form the large majority, nearly two-thirds of the total number of pattachars - and in other cases, the same patta-form is used for a number of years by noting therein the changes occurring ~~therein~~ from year to year, until the space provided for the purpose is exhausted.

2. Collectors unanimously report that no difficulty exists in the way of ryots obtaining pattas, while some collectors justly remark that many ryots are wholly indifferent whether they get a patta or not.

Statement B appended shows the number of fresh pattas issued in each of the five years ending 1893-94. No tendency towards a decrease in the number of pattas issued is discernible. In Bellary and Tanjore the increase is due to the new settlement.

3. Pattas are usually prepared at Tama-bandi and are issued in the presence of the Jamabandi officer to such ryots as are present; and the remaining pattas are handed over to the Karnam for delivery to the ryots in their villages, subject to the prepayment of the price when such is due under the rules. The Karnam in due course submits a list to the Tahsildar showing how the pattas entrusted to him have been disposed of.
