From Captain C. D. CAMPBELL, r. n., Commanding Her M's S. V. "Calcutta" and Senior Officer; to CECIL BEADON, Esq., c. s., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, dated Calcutta, December 29th 1858, No. 1045.

Emergent. SIR,

I have the honor to report the arrival of Her Majesty's Steam Vessel "Coromandel," Indian Navy, yesterday at 8 A. M., from Madras on the 20th Instant, with Details of Native Troops and Stores, and that she will be docked for the purpose of undergoing requisite periodical cleaning and repairs as soon as possible, but as the Vessel's bilges are very foul and her inside Plates required to be cleaned and painted, it is impossible that her Crew should remain on board of her while in Dock, and as it appears from the annexed copy of a letter from her Commander on the subject that there are no Vessels at the disposal of the Marine Department available to receive her Crew of about 120 Officers and men, I respectfully solicit the sanction of Government for the Superintendent of Marine to hire a suitable Vessel to receive them while the "Coromandel" is in Dock which will probably be about twenty days.

From Lieutenant STRADLING, r. n., Commanding Her M's Steam Vessel "Coromandel"; to Captain C. D. CAMPBELL, r. n., Senior Naval Officer, dated Calcutta, 29th December 1858.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you, that on applying to the Superintendent of Marine for a Vessel to hulk the Crew of the Vessel under my Command whilst in Dock, he informs me, he has none at his disposal and as the Vessel's hold is in a dirty state and requires a thorough cleaning throughout, which would render it impossible for them to live on board, I beg to request a Vessel may be engaged for that purpose.

Fort Saint George, Marine Consultation, 15th February 1859.
